

The Utah Department of Health is the state Title V agency. The Department's Division of Community and Family Health Services includes all Title V programs in Utah as mandated by state and federal law, including Children with Special Health Care Needs. The Division also is responsible for the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) - Part C, the WIC program funded through the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Immunization Program funded through the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and the CDC Preventive Block Grant, which includes program activities directed in part to MCH populations. Title V-funded programs include: Reproductive Health, Child Adolescent and School Health; Data Resources, Oral Health, Hearing, Speech and Vision, Newborn Screening, Birth Defects and Genetics, Violence and Injury Prevention, Child Development Clinic, Neonatal Followup, Community-based Services, and School Age and Specialty Services. Programs that provide direct services include: Hearing, Speech and Vision, Newborn Screening, Neonatal Followup, Community-based Services, and School Age and Specialty Services. In addition, Title V funds are allocated for health promotion efforts, such as obesity prevention in children.
